Why are there no uniformed Navy personnel at these meetings?
Hunters Point is no longer an operational Naval facility; therefore, no uniformed personnel are on the base. The base remains US Navy property until cleanup is complete and it is transferred to the City of San Francisco for redevelopment.

How is the Navy involving community members who live near the Shipyard in the cleanup?
The Navy leads the community involvement process at HPNS that includes a robust outreach program, including electronic communications, postings in local news media and blogs, and outreach to community leaders and community based organizations.

Navy community meetings offer information on cleanup progress and specific cleanup technologies, providing an opportunity for community members to learn about the cleanup and ask questions.

Technical documents are available for review by members of the public at local information repositories and on the Navy’s website.

The Navy hosts several guided bus tours of the cleanup sites at HPNS each year, gives presentations to community groups, and hosts informational tables at local community events.

The Navy has hired a community technical advisor to provide additional resources for community members during the radiological data evaluation.

Regulatory Agencies participate in Navy community engagement events, take part in meetings hosted by local organizations, and refers inquiries from the public to the Navy for response.

How will the Navy address public comments?
Questions received by members of the public and Navy responses may be included in future fact sheets or Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs). Public comments during formal public comment periods will be published on the Navy’s website and included in final versions of the document commented upon.

Will the Navy regularly attend my group’s public town hall meetings?
The Navy offers multiple outreach opportunities throughout the year to share information with the public via site tours, public meetings and the Navy website. You are always welcome to participate. The Navy also attends community meetings and provides information specific to stakeholders’ concerns in a mutually respectful setting.

Why won’t the Navy host a town-hall meeting so others can hear what I have to say?
The Navy has found that the most productive forum for sharing information with the public is through an Open House style meeting wherein experts are available to respond at each poster board station to individual questions. This format allows us to answer more questions in a shorter period of time and accommodates stakeholders’ schedules.

Will the Navy restore the Restoration Advisory Board?
The HPNS Restoration Advisory Board (RAB) was formed in 1994 and dissolved in 2009 when it was no longer fulfilling its purpose or mission. Besides distributing information via emails, mailers, bus tours, and newspaper ads, the Navy conducts at least three (3) public meetings each year to provide information to the public in lieu of a RAB. If you are interested in knowing more, please sign up to be included on an HPNS distribution list by sending an email to info@sfhpns.com, leave a message on the HPNS Info Line at (415) 295-4742, or provide your information on a sign-up form at an event where the Navy hosts an informational booth.
